The grapes for the 2018 Sauvignon Blanc were picked on September 4, 2018. A field blend of Sauvignon Blanc and Sémillon, the grapes were hand harvested and whole cluster pressed. The resulting wine was fermented and aged in stainless steel.

The wine is a shimmering pale straw color in the glass. Immediately the nose volunteers abundant grapefruit, with mandarin oranges and a hint of wet stone. In the mouth, the wine is expressive with volatile floral flavors - lychee, honeydew melon, and passionfruit, surrounded with a fresh acidity and a textured, weighty palate.
